NEWTON COUNTY ROLLS

Ho-Hum, Bradley Wins His 350th

COVINGTON, Ga.—If it seems to all his opposing coaches that Ron Bradley does nothing but win basketball games, their thoughts have more fact than fantasy.

For 13 years, Bradley has been coaching the Newton County Rams and Friday night he passed another in a series of milestones at this Class AAA school as he won his 350th career game here.

In that span, he's lost only 42 games.

Newton County, rated ninth in the state on the strength of its 17-3 record, put it on visiting Therrell Friday night, 86-45, and the Panthers never had a chance.

It was a good milestone victory because it was typical Bradley — smooth offense, winning defense, and a chance for nearly everybody to get in the game.

Clay Summers did the honors for Newton County totaling 25 points as 11 players shared scoring honors. Backup scoring honors went to Donnie Freeman with 14. Tony Thornton managed 13 to lead Therrell.
