Tech-Tennessee Moved To Sept. 9th

The Chicago Tribune says: The longest sentence in the English language is "I do" ... Georgia Tech will meet Tennessee in the September 9th TV Football Game of the Week. This moves the game from October 14th when the new Coliseum is supposed to be opened in Atlanta ... "Legs are appendages that are extremely necessary to baseball players and girls who are trying to get to first base," says Terrace Topics.

3 STAR Students Were Athletes

When Coach Tom Wortman's basketball team entered the State AAA Tournament last month, it had an unusual fact connected with the team inasmuch as the fifth member of a family took part in a state hoop meet. Deedy Shaw was the manager of the NCHS team this past campaign, and her sisters, Nadia and Kay, and brothers Billy and Phil all played basketball for Newton High and all played in at least one State Tournament ... We learned a lesson as to our memory and what someone else tells you! When the STAR Student was named this year we wrote in The Blab Slab that Hugh Steele and David Parker were the only athletes at Newton High who gained that honor. There was another athlete, Lee Piper, who was a STAR Student. Lee was the most efficient place-kicker on the Ram football team a few years ago.

Frosh Find It Hard To Make Ram Squad

Arnold Palmer used contact lense for the first time in the Greater Greensboro Open golf meet last week and shot a 69 ... The Newton Rams 14th statistic book, released last week, shows that the 1971-72 Ram boys team had no freshmen on the roster. Every other team coached by Ronald Bradley had at least one frosh on the squad ... Maybe you noticed that pension scale of athletes and business occupations in the Atlanta Journal recently. Baseball players pensions were at the top with a 20-year baseball player getting $1,905 per month.
